Dear Incoming Students,

Welcome to Baruch College!

On behalf of the 2010-2011 Board of Directors of the Graduate Student Assembly (GSA), I would like to share with you the excitement surrounding the GSA. Our agenda is extensive and ambitious, and its success depends largely on you and your fellow students.

Baruch is a diverse community, comprised of three graduate schools: Zicklin School of Business, School of Public Affairs and Weissman School of Arts and Sciences. The GSA strives to meet the varied needs of more than 3,200 graduate students in all three schools. One of our key goals is to increase participation by all members of the graduate student body in school-related activities. To this end, we are in the midst of planning several educational, social and networking events throughout the year that will present opportunities to mix and mingle with classmates, as well as industry leaders.

Collectively, the GSA Board of Directors has undertaken the responsibility to help strengthen Baruch's academic and professional reputation throughout the country. We hope to organize events that build name recognition and highlight the talents of our peers. By working together with the graduate student clubs, we can leverage our resources and create programs that will achieve positive results.

The GSA Board of Directors is a team of dedicated, hard-working students who have a genuine interest in the well-being of the student body and Baruch College. We are always looking for new volunteers to help put our ideas into action and hope you will join us on this exciting journey.

We look forward to meeting you at a GSA event in the future and wish you well in your first semester. If you would like more information on the GSA, please feel free to email us at gsa.club@baruch.cuny.edu.

On behalf of GSA,
Moe Shamim
President, Graduate Student Assembly

The Graduate Student Assembly (GSA) is the umbrella organization that oversees all graduate student clubs at Baruch College. Each graduate student — more than 3,200 of us — is a valuable member of this dynamic group.

The GSA provides numerous opportunities for students to get involved in the Baruch community. In addition to hosting many educational, social and networking events throughout the year, the GSA enlists the support of graduate students to serve as representatives on various faculty/student committees of the three schools: Zicklin School of Business, School of Public Affairs and Weissman School of Arts and Sciences.

With your help, we can make a difference in the quality of graduate student life here at Baruch. We hope you join us for an exciting new year!

To get involved, please contact the GSA today.
