Matthew Van Buren is President of CBRE’s New York Tri-State Region, with oversight of all lines of business operating within the region. New York Tri-State is CBRE’s largest region, with revenues exceeding $500 million and approximately 2,500 employees.

From 2006 through 2010, Mr. Van Buren held leadership positions of increasing breadth in New York Tri-State, most recently as Executive Managing Director of CBRE’s Midtown New York operation, with responsibility for the Midtown Manhattan brokerage division. From 1991 through 2006, he built and managed sales organizations in senior leadership positions at Wolters Kluwer, the Washington Post Company and Thompson Reuters.

Mr. Van Buren is a member of CBRE’s Americas Executive Committee, Americas Operations Management Board and Eastern Division Executive Committee.

He is also an active member of The Real Estate Board of New York and serves on the Executive Committee of the New York Section of the Urban Land Institute, as well as the Association for a Better New York and the Executive Advisory Board of Baruch College’s Zicklin School of Business. In addition to his professional responsibilities, Mr. Van Buren is active in numerous charitable organizations in the greater New York area.

Mr. Henry graduated from the University of Albany with a B.A. in Economics, and received an M.B.A., also from the University of Albany.
