

H. Fenwick Huss Teaching Award (2020)

Purpose of the Award

The H. Fenwick Huss Teaching Award recognizes PhD students for teaching excellence in the classroom. The award represents our commitment to value teaching as a critical component of the PhD training and experience at the Zicklin School of Business.

Nature of the Award

Recipients of the award receive a $250 cash award and honored in a ceremony at the annual spring student meeting.

Eligibility

All PhD students in the business program who have taught for at least two semesters are eligible to apply. Students are eligible once every other year and must be in their first 10 semesters of the program.

Nomination Process

Candidates need to self-nominate and provide the following information:

- All available teaching evaluations
- A teaching statement by the candidate that reflect on his or her teaching philosophy, pedagogy, objectives, and experiences. The statement should not exceed one page in length

The PhD admissions and awards committee will evaluate the applications. There will be a maximum of two awards per specialization.

Criteria for Teaching Excellence

- Command of the subject
- Continuous growth in the field of study
- Ability to organize course material and to present it effectively
- Effective design and redesign of courses
- Ability to inspire in students independent and original thinking
- Ability to encourage intellectual interests in beginning students and to stimulate advanced students to creative work
- Enthusiasm and vitality in learning and teaching
- Participation in advising students
- Ability to respond to diverse student body

Submission Instructions

All applications should be submitted electronically via email to phd.program@baruch.cuny.edu (CC: leslie.dejesus@baruch.cuny.edu) by no later than Monday, February 24, 2020, by 5:00pm.